On metion of Mr. Ancona, (opp.) of Pa., the Committee on the District of Columbia was instructed to in pairs whether the all gation that prisoners, who were confined in the city jail for criminal offences, are sold to substitute brokers and placed in the army, is true.

Mr. FRHNANDO WOOD, (opp.) of N. Y., offered a resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to consider the expediency of exporting to foreign markets for sale all the cotton now in the hands of the government, so as to obtain for the government the advantage of the higher price in Europe for that article, importing iron to this extent, thus enhancing the credit of the government and reducing the premium on gold and exchange, with other advantages.

act of March 17, 1864; what amount of rates of premium and the names of agents engaged in the transaction.

The resolution was tabled by two majority.

The House by three majority r fused to lay on the table the resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Edwinder, (opp.) of Wis., calling upon the President, and recreatry of State and Scretary of War to furnish lists of persons held in condinement but not convicted of alleged offences against the government, together with the particulars on this subject. Further action on this resolution was terminated by the expiration of the morning hour.

THE PAY AND REMOVEMENTS OF OFFICERS.

Mr. WILSON, (rep.) of Iowa, from the Committee of Conference, made a report on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the bill amendatory of the act defining the pay and engliments of certain officers of the army, including the firstine corps. In bits explanation he said that all officers were placed on an equality, but were not to receive additional pay for discharging the duties pertaining to brevet rank.

Mr. Schweck, (rep.) of Ohlo, registed that he would give colonels acting as brevet brigadier generals corresponding pay and so of other brevets.

Mr. Willeys, said the House had passed the bill increasing the pay of officers believ the rank of brigadier general twenty dive per centum, and that General Sherman's recomm nodalogs for brevet rank of certain of his officers had lain in the pigeon holes of the War Department for two years.

The Spraker laid before the House a communication from the Secretary of War, in response to a resolution calling for a copy of General Morgan's report relative to the evacention of Cumberland Gap. The Secretary of War says it cannot, for reasons mensioned, be properly furnished.

On motion of Mr. Cox. (epp.) of Ohio, the communication was referred to the Committee on Military Affaira.

Ind RECONTRICTION OF REPLIEDES SALES.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the bill providing a government for the States subversed or overshrown by the rebellion.

Mr. Dawes, (rep.) of Mass., opposed the bill at length. It was not founded on any principle commonly called the "war power of the government." The very first section provides for the appointment of officers who will be multiplied to thousands to lord it over the miserable, poverty-stricken, wretched citizens of the rebellious Sales. It would afford an asylum for broken down politicians, whose presence would darken the heavens like the locusts of Egypt. In addition to these tills, the people would be made the objects of free plunder. He said the bill proposed to levy taxes to the precise amount to which the Southern people were liable from the last year.

which the Southern people were liable from the last rear before they went into rebellion. The provisions of the bill, it carried out, instead of winning back the people in the active would have the effect of allenating. He expresses arranged desire that the got them aloud be re-established by loyal citizens are crament should be re-established by loyal citizens are crament at the mercy of the aggregated people in the dilloyal States. The bill, he saying asset in the erroneous policy that there could was based upon the erroneous by the majority. The rogal erroned takes formed by the majority. The rogal erroned law in their own at their organic law in their own way. He heped if the this bill, prescribing an iron, unbending rule could fail to become a law.

M. Schenck here sent up to be read a despatch enclosed to him by the Secretary of War, from Licoutemant General Grant, saying:

THE RECONSTRUCTION BILL RECURSED.

Mr. FERNANDO WOOD, (opp.) of N. Y., congratulated the House and the country that at last was heard the language of conciliation from the republican side of the House.

grage of conciliation from the republican side of the House.

Mr. Garriero, (rep.) of Ohlo, wished to know whether the gentleman (Mr. Wood) referred to the despatch just read of the news about Charleston.

Mr. Fernanco Wood repeated that he congratulated the country that the gentleman from Massachusetts had uttered words of conciliation, and had spoken of the South as a great people, and used language of kindness and respect towards them. After all, it cannot be for gotten that they are American citizens. Horstofore we have heard threats of subjugation, devastation and aunithitator; but not before now had they heard that those people are cutifled to any rights, respect or regard whatever. This gave him more hope for his country than shything which had yet transpired. He considered the pending bill as infamous, unconstitutional and as emanating from the vorst spocies of fanaticism which rules the majority of the House.

The Fort Morgan arrived at Southwest Pass on the evening of February 4, and was detained off the bar until the morning of the 6th inst. by thick fogs. The United States supply steamer Bermida, bound to the westward, passed her near the bar. She arrived at New Oricans on the afternoon of the 6th, and left there on the morning of the 9th, having received on board the sick, to be carried to the Naval Hospital, North, and a large draft of men. The health of the city of New Oricans was generally good, as also that of the fleet off the city. A number of vessels-of-war from the blockade were off the city effect.

She sailed from Pensacola on the 11th instant, and on the afternoon of the same day exchanged signals with the United States steamer Fort Jackson. Arrived at Key West on the evening of the 13th. The officers and crew of the United States steam sloop San Jacinto, lost some six weeks ago on one of the Hahamar refs, had jist arrived at that place, waiting to be conveyed North. The health of Key West was excellent.

The F. M. left in port flagship Dal , and the Glaucus, Procees, Tallapoosa, Mahaska, and two light draught gundats—Hybiscus and Spirca. Salled from Key West on the 14th hast. In fact, though of all you had be a said to possess a tact which enables him to rule without appearing to do so. In fact, though of all year be magistrate, he exercises the authority of a lieutenant governor. At the same time he bears the character of a singularly unassuming and modest man. The officers of the San Jacinto speak in high terms of him. What is more, he did not seem to think that he had done anything extraordinary in affording aid to the shipwrecked mariners, and steadily and persistently relused every offer of remuneration for the time he employed in superintending the operations of the weekers, and in seeing them paid, modestly contenting himself, when hard pressed, by his nuating, rather than saying, that a line to his government in his favor was all he desired. The correspondence between this gentleman, Captain Meade and the Colonial Secretary at Nassau is very interesting, and does honor to all concerned.
